

Sociologists for Women in Society

2020 Sociologists for Women in Society (SWS) Summer Meeting Pilot

FREE Pre-Meeting Interactive Workshop for High School Teachers:
Invitation to Ethnic Studies High School Teachers Virtual Workshop via ZOOM
Topic: Teaching Intersectionality in High School Classrooms

"Teaching Intersectionality in the H.S. Classroom: Critical Race Feminist Strategies for Student and Teacher Critical Inquiry, Praxis & Empowerment"

Workshop Date: Thurs. 8/6/20 from 9am-1:30pm PDT/ 12pm-4:30 pm EDT

Participation is limited to 20 H.S. Teachers.

Registration is free.

Please RSVP by Mon. July 20, 2020 by emailing SWS Vice President, Professor Nancy López at nlopez@unm.edu

$50 gift card per teacher participant-up to 20 participants.

Please visit the SWS Website for more information on the Summer Meeting: <https://socwomen.org/>

Topics to be covered:

- 1.) What is Intersectionality? An invitation to critical self reflection on your own identity
- 2.) What does intersectionality look like in action?
- 3.) What's Next? How do you practice what you preach?

Teachers that register for the workshop will get free access to the virtual SWS conference. A ZOOM link will be forthcoming for all registered teachers for both the workshop and the conference.